PROFILE

A graduate from the Emily Carr University of Art and Design, Ryan specializes in Unit, Gallery and Environmental Portrait photography for the film and television industry. He has established himself as a skilled and versatile artist with an extensive repertoire of photographic skills honed over years of professional experience. Ryan is an invaluable asset to any film production.

His passion for photography has taken him overseas, where he has lived and worked as a photographer in both Australia and Southeast Asia. It was in Cambodia that Ryan first set foot onto a film set. This experience opened his eyes to the dynamic and energetic atmosphere that surrounds filmmaking and from that moment on, he was hooked!

Today, you can find Ryan thriving on set, whether it's a remote location shoot or within the controlled environment of a studio. His ability to adapt to different environments and capture the essence of a scene is a testament to his experience and dedication as a photographer.

Ryan continues to grow, develop and make his mark through his personal documentary projects. These passion projects allow him to explore his creativity and showcase his unique perspective. Ryan delves into topics close to his heart telling compelling stories that resonate with audiences worldwide.
